

EDUCATION

North Carolina online university offers scholarships for veterans

Share

G+

Tweet

Email

Natalia Adkins

Saturday, November 11, 2017 06:29PM

NORTH CAROLINA (WTVD) -- In honor of Veterans Day, a university in North Carolina announced it's offering scholarships to veterans looking to earn a bachelors degree in IT, business, K-12 education, and health professions.

WGU North Carolina, the state's newest online university, created through a partnership with the nonprofit, Western Governors University.

The WGU Salute to Veterans Scholarship is valued at up to $2,500 per student and is not just being offered to veterans, but to active-duty military, reservists, and military family members as well.

Jennifer Eckard's WGU North Carolina Launch Address

At least $50,000 in scholarships will be awarded to new WGU North Carolina students in the state.

Applications are now being accepted through January 31, 2018.

For more information on the scholarship, including the requirements and the application form visit WGU North Carolina's website.

ABC11 has decided to slowly reduce the number of stories on the website that have a comments section. We believe very strongly that our audience should have an opportunity to discuss and debate events in our world, however, we have not been able to moderate the comments as well as we would like. Instead of hosting a platform that could allow a few loud and ugly voices to dominate a conversation, we want to encourage everyone to join us on our social media platforms and speak out there. Facebook: facebook.com/ABC11 Twitter: twitter.com/ABC11_WTVD